Doro 8030 Being an amplified smart phone and hearing aid compatible, the Doro 8030 is ideal for those who are hard of hearing. You can email your friends, take pictures with the 5-megapixel camera, browse the web or work out your location using the inbuilt GPS. For extra security, there's an Assistance button that can be pressed in case of an emergency and the Doro Connect and Care facility that enables you to keep in touch with those closest to you.

Geemarc CL850 Clamshell Phone

This simple to operate amplified clamshell mobile phone offers an adjustable receiving volume of up to 35dB, so you can turn it up or down, depending on your listening environment and the severity of your hearing loss. The big dial buttons are perfect for fingers that might not be as dextrous as they once were and the talking keypad is great for those with impaired sight. The dual LCD colour display shows the date and time. It also tells you if you've missed a call. If you want to capture that perfect moment, just switch to the camera mode and click away.
